Mona City looks forward to a productive and successful association with you. The most vital component in any organization is the staff and we know our success depends, in a large part, on you. As a City employee, you not only help serve the general interest of the community but represent the City government to our residents.

This Mona City Employee Handbook contains general statements of City policy and applies to all employees of Mona City, except as specifically excluded. Do not consider this document comprehensive; it does not address all the possible applications of, or exceptions to, the general policies and procedures described. This manual contains general information and guidelines; it is not, and should not be construed as, a contract.

We designed this handbook to acquaint you with some of our basic policies, rules, and benefits. The information and guidelines are to help you understand your privileges, benefits, obligations and responsibilities as a Mona City employee.

The procedures, practices, policies and benefits described are subject to change and may be modified or discontinued. We recognize we have a responsibility to inform you of changes and will try to inform you of any changes as they occur or as soon as we can. Should anything in this handbook be unenforceable, invalid, or in conflict with State or Federal Code (Federal/USC) it does not invalidate the entire document, but only that particular provision.

These policies and procedures do not apply to members of councils and commissions, persons contracted to supply professional or technical services, and volunteer personnel who receive no compensation from the City. Please direct any questions concerning the contents of this Mona City Employee Handbook to your supervisor, or the Mayor.

If any departmental policies and procedures are found to be in conflict, they will be superseded by the provisions of this manual and this manual shall supersede any existing agreements made between the City and its employees.

“You,” “your,” “his or her,” and “employee” any variants of those words used in this Employee Handbook refer to an employee of Mona City, regardless of gender or pronoun used or written herein, and should be read and interpreted to effectuate the intent of this Employee Handbook as being a personnel policy relating to the employment practices of Mona City.

SECTION I-EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

- A. Anti-Discrimination: Mona City is committed to equal employment opportunity. We make our employment decisions based on merit and business needs and not on race, color, national origin, sex, age, religion, pregnancy, covered disability, or any other protected class as established by law. This policy applies to all policies and procedures relating to recruitment and hiring, compensation, benefits, termination and all other terms and conditions of employment.

In addition, we foster a non-discriminatory environment for qualified individuals with disabilities. What matters is that people can safely perform the essential job functions with or without reasonable accommodation. If they can do the job and the accommodation doesn't present an undue hardship on Mona City or other staff members, there is no reason for them not to be part of our organization.

Management is primarily responsible for ensuring equal opportunity, but it takes all of us to maintain a non-discriminatory work place. Please treat everyone with care and respect.

- B. Anti-Nepotism:

1. It is the policy of Mona City to comply with the anti-nepotism policies of the State of Utah as stated in Utah Code §52-3-1, as amended.

2. Mona City will consider employment applications from relatives of current employees when openings exist. Hiring decisions will be made based on merit. Relatives will not receive preferential treatment. Employee with a relative applicant should refrain entirely from the hiring process.

3. Applicants with relatives in classified or full-time at-will service will not be hired in the same department if the applicant is to be directly supervised by one of the relatives defined in the Utah Code.

An employee may see his or her own personnel file and you may have copies of any of the documents. Direct any questions or requests to Mayor. Other users authorized by law or as determined by the Mayor to have a legitimate "need to know" may access the records. A log or record of those reviewing personnel records and information shall be maintained together with the reasons for access to the records. All reviews of personnel records shall be done in the presence of the Mayor or Finance Director.

3. If a disciplinary action is rescinded or disapproved upon appeal, all forms, documents and records pertaining to the case shall be removed from the personnel record and destroyed.
